SURVIVING THE HR WAR

In 2016, the New Jersey Business & Industry Association (NJBIA) answered close to 1,000 questions from human resources professionals and business owners throughout NJ. This interactive presentation discusses some of the funniest, toughest and most delicate questions we've gotten over the years to provide practical pointers and real-life scenarios to seasoned HR professionals. We'll present the problem and tell you how we helped the employer to resolve it. Presented by former Princeton HRMA Legislative Chair, Stefanie Riehl, this interactive discussion promises to provide interactive peer learning and even a few laughs.

Participants Will Learn:

1. To consider real-life examples to assist HR decision making
2. How to apply best practices to support decision making on employee relations issues
3. The importance of staying current with industry regulations and workplace laws.

About the Speaker:

Stefanie Riehl leads the New Jersey Business & Industry Association's Member Action Center - a one-stop shop providing government contacts, legal and business assistance, and data analytics to 20,000 companies. As an expert on employment and labor issues, Stefanie has been interviewed by the Associated Press, Bloomberg, NJ101.5, the Star Ledger, the Bergen Record, and the Philadelphia Inquirer. She also served as Legislative Chair for the Princeton Human Resources Management Association from 2013-2015.
