

The Future of Work is Changing Rapidly. Are You Ready?

We often hear and read that employers are having a difficult time finding job seekers that have the skills needed for work today. In other words, a skills gap exists. What does that mean? Our Panel of professional experts from many industries will discuss the skills needed for jobs now, and in the future.

In addition, they will discuss:

- The opportunities available to you throughout Monmouth County and its surrounding areas
- Transferrable skills
- Pathways that currently exist in industries and across industries
- Most desirable technology skills and soft skills
- Challenges for the workforce growth in this century
- The pros and cons of many generations in today's workforce
- The "Gig Economy"
